

Call for Papers!

IACIS 2013 International Conference
San Juan, Puerto Rico
October 2-5, 2013

Recent research suggests that in today's organizations technical knowledge may not be enough for employees to effectively perform competitive tasks, make business decisions and gain competitive advantage. Business specific knowledge, core process knowledge, and industry knowledge must blend with technical knowledge for effective organizational decision making. With this in mind, the theme for the IACIS 2013 International Conference is "Organizational Competitiveness in the 21st Century: Using Knowledge Resources to Support Effective Decision Making".

The IACIS 2013 International Conference provides a showcase for the latest research in practice and pedagogical topics that focus on how information systems are used to support organizations or enhance the educational process. You are invited to share your research on the conference theme or other relevant IS and IT research with the educators and professionals attending the IACIS 2013 International Conference. Papers covering related academic and technical issues are also encouraged.

All submissions MUST be submitted online by May 12, 2013. See submission requirements at <http://www.iacis.org/conference/conference.php>. Please visit the IACIS website (<http://www.iacis.org>) for full conference details as they become available.

What to Submit

Full pedagogy/research papers (including work in progress)
Abstracts
Panel presentation proposals

All submissions are double-blind refereed. Papers accepted in the review process will be published in Issues in Information Systems; abstracts will be published in the Conference Proceedings. Issues in Information Systems is a refereed, serial publication of IACIS that is registered with the U.S. Library of Congress and listed in the Cabell's Directory of Publishing Opportunities in Management since the eighth edition.
